

Moreau River and Tributaries

The Moreau River, which begins as North and South Moreau creeks, lies north of the Osage and is popular with anglers from Jefferson City and Columbia. The south branch, in particular, provides some good bass fishing.

North Moreau River and Moreau River

Difficulty: I, except in high water.

Gradients: general — 2.4; Rockhouse Bridge on N. Moreau to South Moreau Creek — 2.9; to Missouri River — 2.

Counties: Moniteau, Cole.

- 0.0 Mt. Hope Road Ford at mouth of Wieneke Branch.
- 2.9 Route U Bridge.
- 5.1 Low-water bridge on Murphy Ford Road. Good access.
- 8.4 Kohler Bridge on Nine Hills Road.
- 12.4 Walser Bridge on Route D.
- 15.9 Meadows Ford Road, off Old Loman Road on north and Scruggs Station Road on south.
- 18.9 Stringtown Bridge Access on Hemstreet Road. Access, but no ramp.
- 19.4 Hemstreet Road Bridge.
- 19.6 Route C Bridge.
- 21.9 South Moreau River on right.
- 22.8 Eberhardt Ford. Private access.

- 28.0 Hwy. 54 Bridge. No access due to heavy traffic.
- 29.7 Honey Creek Access on right. Off Hwy. 54, east on Buffalo Road. ▲
- 38.1 Tanner Bridge.
- 40.9 Route B Bridge.
- 43.0 Wardsville Road Bridge.
- 48.4 Bald Hill Road Bridge.
- 57.1 Moreau 50 Access at Hwy. 50–63 Bridge. Private campground nearby. ▲
- 58.4 Algoa Road Bridge.
- 58.5 Missouri Pacific R.R. Bridge.
- 58.7 Missouri River.

South Moreau River

Difficulty: I, except in high water.

Gradients: general — 2.4.

Counties: Moniteau, Cole.

- 0.0 Route AA Bridge access at Decatur.
- 3.0 Scrivner Road Bridge.
- 5.0 Scrivner Road Conservation Area on left, on Scott Road, off Scrivner Road. Must carry canoe about 30 yards from South Moreau Creek parking lot. River may be seasonally low. ▲
- 8.9 Low-water bridge on Vaughn Ford Road.
- 10.8 Taylor Bridge on Route D.
- 13.8 North Moreau Creek on left.

